How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain sugar. A part of granulated sugar with a pint of warm water, stirred for 5 minutes, gives you as good a syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 15 cents' worth of Pinex, pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 35 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly 85%. Full directions with Pinex.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's really astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and breaks and soothes the membranes in the case of a painful cough.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "15 cents' worth of Pinex, and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Adv.

HIGHEST COURT HEARS ARGUMENT FOR LIEUT. BECKER

Manton Gives Twenty Reasons Why Condemned Man Should Get New Trial

ALBANY, N. Y., March 24.—The Court of Appeals today heard arguments on the appeal of former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker from the second verdict convicting him of implicating the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

The record filed with the court was voluminous. The minutes of the first and second trial, which were made a part of the case on appeal, filled five volumes, and 1,349 printed pages. There were 600 pages in the brief of Martin T. Manton, Becker's attorney.

who was to argue the appeal. Robert C. Taylor, an Assistant District Attorney of New York, opposed Manton's arguments. Manton set forth twenty points which he contended warranted a reversal of the verdict. It was alleged that the verdict was against the weight of evidence, that the conviction was based on testimony of accomplices without corroboration by any other evidence to connect Becker with the crime, that the second trial "was staged in an atmosphere hostile to the defendant" and that the exclusion of the jury from the courtroom during the argument over the question of the admissibility of "Dago Frank's" alleged confession, made in prison, was before he and the three other gunmen were electrocuted, was a reversible error.

Judge Seabury, who presided at Becker's second trial and who suggested him to die in the electric chair, again has been elevated to the Court of Appeals Bench. He did not participate in the case to-day.

Mr. Taylor contended that Becker conceived the murder of Rosenthal and through Jack Rose directed the action of the four gunmen who actually killed Rosenthal.

Referring to Mr. Manton's denunciation of the three informers, Rose, Webster and Valon, Mr. Taylor said that Mr. Manton in his brief called Rose a scoundrel at least eighty times, a perjurer at least forty times, and repeatedly a rogue, fabricator, rascal, bend, archlied, villain, vulture, murderer, liar, whelp, wretch, scum of the earth and an imp of Satan.

"It goes without saying," Mr. Taylor urged, "that if a man of the strictest honesty attempted to tell as elaborate a story as Rose has testified to three times, many discrepancies would be found. If Rose's different stories had discovered no discrepancies, he would be branded as a fabricator for that very reason. Now, he is branded because they do discover discrepancies. In other words, Rose must be damned if he does, and damned if he doesn't."

Mr. Taylor laid great stress in his brief upon the testimony of Charles H. Platt, Becker's former press agent, whom he declares is not in any way an accomplice, and his testimony therefore given on the trial of Becker must be considered by the Court of Appeals, despite Mr. Manton's denunciation of Platt as a perjurer and a lunatic.

Mrs. Becker and her brother, J. T. Lynch, accompanied the Becker attorneys to the court room.

DOUBT IF WHITMAN WILL OUST M'CALL; ACTION IS PUT OFF

Governor Announces That He Will Make No Decision for Two Weeks.

Special from a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.

ALBANY, March 24.—Doubt was expressed to-day at the State Capitol that Gov. Whitman will finally carry out his original purpose of removing from office the four Public Service Commissioners of the First District. It is certain he will not remove Chairman McCall and his associates just at present. Much to the surprise of those looking for prompt action, he announced at the close of the hearing yesterday that he would take two weeks to read over the testimony of the legislative investigating committee in the light of the arguments in defense made for the Commissioner.

Chairman McCall made frequent references in his argument to personal associations in the past with Mr. Whitman and there is well grounded belief that if a way should be opened the Governor would like to spare McCall the disgrace of dismissal and continue him in office.

The two-weeks delay may present such opportunity. The climax of the hearing yesterday came as a hysterical attack on the Governor personally by Commissioner George V. S. Williams. The Governor threatened him with instant removal and exacted many apologies. Appreciating the overwrought condition of the Commissioner, however, the Governor later gave evidence of sympathy for him. Mr. Williams came to Albany from a sick bed, leaving two members of his family in the care of physicians. He has been greatly overwrought, his friends said, by the charges made against him.

MYSTERY IN PROPOSED LEASE OF DREAMLAND PIER ANGRERS MAYOR

He Seeks Information in Vain. Then Orders Park Commissioner to Explain.

An attempt to deprive the public of the use of the Dreamland pier at Coney Island this summer and, by a mysterious lease, to place it in the hands of a private individual, was blocked to-day by Mayor Mitchell at a meeting of the Sinking Fund Commission. The Mayor in vain asked all his efficiency engineers and commissioners in the commission to explain the terms of the proposed lease. Even Paul Wilson, employed solely to keep the Mayor enlightened on such matters, could not make the matter clear. "Where is Park Commissioner Ingersoll of Brooklyn?" angrily asked the Mayor. "He ought to be here right now, ready to explain every detail of this lease."

Two of the sergeants-at-arms were standing near the group of officials. They didn't know what Park Commissioner Ingersoll looked like and went about asking different individuals, including two women, if they were the official sought.

The Mayor then offered a resolution directing the Brooklyn Park Commissioner and Tilden Adamson of the Bureau of Contracts to submit a report to each member of the commission within three days explaining all the details of the lease on which the commission was to-day asked to act in utter ignorance.

Dr. Benjamin M. Briggs of No. 108 Willoughby Street and Gustav Christmann of No. 107 Rushwick Avenue, Brooklyn, headed a delegation from the United Anglers' League, who wanted the Dreamland pier thrown open to fishermen for the remainder of the spring and summer.

Representatives of the Coney Island Citizens' Committee, also spoke against a lease of the pier to a private person. Several of the speakers said the pier space is just as valuable to the people as the beach space and that $5,000 a year to the city for a lease was not to be compared to the great benefit the women and children would derive from a free pier.

MANAGER IS BLAMED FOR DEATHS OF SIX IN BROOKLYN PLANT

"Culpable Negligence" Is Charged by Coroner's Jury After Long Deliberation

Responsibility for the explosion which caused six deaths at the Crew-Levick Company's oil plant, No. 115 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, on March 13, was placed upon the company manager, David Floyd Davis, by the verdict of a Coroner's jury, expanded by Coroner Senior, at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

After hearing a large number of witnesses, among them Fire Commissioner Adamson and Joseph O. Hammit, Chief of the Fire Prevention Bureau, the jury retired at midnight. After deliberating two and a half hours the following verdict was returned:

"We, the jurors, believe the explosion to have been caused by culpable negligence on the part of David Floyd Davis, manager of the company."

LARGE WIVES RETAIN HUSBANDS' LOVE LONGEST

CHICAGO, March 24.—Wives who are physically below and who are willing workers without are despised according to a report on the question of desertion in Chicago made by 10 investigators for the Bureau of Social Welfare.

The percentage of desertion, was shown to be the lowest among Italian and the highest among the American born. Unemployment was shown to be responsible for more than 10 per cent of all desertions.

"Next to steady employment, plenty of children seems undoubtedly to be the best possible guarantee of marital permanence," said Mrs. Leonard E. Mader, Commissioner of the Welfare Bureau, to-day.
